Extenuating Circumstances

There has been some changes to the EC policy, students can now self-certify. Students can complete an EC after the exam but not after receiving results.

Examinations

There was some issues with the criminal law exam, but after getting in touch with Victoria the issue was solved.

Exam timetable, colleagues have been working very to ensure there is reasonable time between each exam. Exams are 24hrs for example, they will start at 10am and finish the following day at 10am

Rupert reminded students, feedback and advice office hours are still available. If you have any queries to contact your tutor.

Other

Students raised concerns about the long term sustainability of the University, Penny reassured students that University is fine. We are very fortunate Queen Mary is a Russell group University and that there is nothing to worry about.

For September 2020, we are looking at Semester A classes to take place online.

It is the 'no-detriment' policy, and it has been approved for classification which can be found at the following link <http://www.arcs.qmul.ac.uk/students/study/assessment-changes-due-to-coronavirus/>. The no-detriment policy with regards to progression is still being discussed a Faculty level and will be communicated to students ASAP.

Graduation ceremony has been postpone. The team have not released any other information.

Students are reminded to get to get into touch with staff, if they have any further issues or concerns. We are here to help and support you.

Student reps thanked academic staff and professional staff for their hard work and support during this difficult time.
