

Home-City Stories

invitation to launch of a new app-based audio walk in Hackney

Thursday 12th July, 6pm at Hackney Archives
(with free visit to Geffrye Almshouse at 4pm)

Join us at the launch of 'Home-City Stories' - a free, app-based audio walk about life on and around Kingsland Road. The walk draws on research at Queen Mary University of London in collaboration with the Geffrye Museum of the Home, Hackney Archives, and current and former residents. Starting at the Geffrye Museum, the walk weaves its way along and around Kingsland Road and finishes at Hackney Archives. It includes testimony from interviews, photographs, film footage, domestic sounds and archival material.

- 4.00pm: Free tour of the almshouses at the Geffrye Museum. There are 16 places available, so please email Alison Blunt (a.m.blunt@qmul.ac.uk) if you would like to join this tour.
- 5.00pm: Begin audiowalk from Geffrye Museum to Hackney Archives.
- 6.00pm: Reception at Hackney Archives with chance to explore archival material about the Kingsland Road and surrounding area.
- 6.30pm: Screening of four short films featuring Ali, Debby, Liz and Mark.
- 7.15pm: Panel discussion with Judith Garfield MBE (Director of Eastside Community Heritage), Patrice Lawrence (Hackney-based writer and journalist), Guy Nicholson (Hackney Council Cabinet Member for Planning, Business & Investment) and Winstan Whitter (Hackney-based film-maker).

Please book here: www.eventbrite.com/e/home-city-stories-app-launch-tickets-46838282564
Further details: www.qmul.ac.uk/homecitystreet/